The Best Food in the Range

As you know Mt Olympus is renowned as having the best tucker in the range. To ensure this reputation continues we re-supply the top hut every Saturday. The food is transported up the hill in the little yellow trailer you often see parked at the oddest angles next to the container.

This is where you come in – the club needs drivers to share the towing of the trailer from Christchurch to Mt Olympus. Doesn't have to be every weekend, just once a season would be a great help.

Taking the trailer up the hill is considered a winter duty weekend which means you only have to part with $10 for the weekends skiing and accommodation. So if you want to gain valuable alpine driving skills or would like to know more then give Tom Smith a call on (03) 960 0965 or 027 276 7314 or email turningtom@hotmail.com

Hurry Hurry Hurry - Winter Duty Spaces Running Out

Missed out on doing your summer work party? Then how about doing it this winter. There are limited spaces available for keen people to do their work party's as duty weekends.

For those that don't know and those that need a reminder a winter duty weekend involves doing six hours work on the field and or in the hut a day and in return you only have to fork out $10 for the weekend, brilliant deal don't you think!

The work can range from running the food up the hill, manning the access tow to meet and greet people and help those new to rope tows, to checking lunch tickets, to patrolling the field or splicing a rope.

So if you want to book yourself in or would like to know more then give Tom Smith a call on (03) 960 0965 or 027 276 7314 or email turningtom@hotmail.com

PS – spaces are filling up fast so get your name down quick smart!
